

DEATH OF A NATION

DINESH D'SOUZA

Dinesh D'Souza's films 2016: Obama's America and America: Imagine The World Without Her are the #2 and #6 highest-grossing political documentaries of all time, respectively. D'Souza's latest feature-length film, Hillary's America, is widely credited with contributing to Hillary Clinton's defeat in 2016, and quickly joined his first two films in the top 10 political documentaries of all time. Born in Mumbai, India, Dinesh has truly lived the American Dream. He moved to the United States to attend school on a Rotary Scholarship. Following graduation from Dartmouth College, he went on to work in the Reagan White House as a policy analyst. D'Souza has served as a John M. Olin Fellow at the American Enterprise Institute and Robert and Karen Rishwain Fellow at Stanford University. D'Souza has won numerous awards including Best Documentary for America (The Dove Foundation) and has been called one of the "top young public-policy makers in the country" by Investor's Business Daily.

GERALD MOLEN

Gerald R. Molen is the Academy Award winning producer of Schindler's List. He produced some of the most memorable films of the last three decades, including Jurassic Park, Hook, and Minority Report. He was a co-producer for Rain Man, which won the Oscar for Best Picture. Molen produced 2016: Obama's America, America, and Hillary's America.

BRUCE SCHOOLEY

Bruce Schooley is an inventor, entrepreneur, executive producer, and writer. His role as Executive Producer on America: Imagine the World Without Her contributed to the success of the film, making it the sixth highest grossing political documentary of all time. In his follow-up role as co-director of Hillary's America, he and D'Souza exposed the secret history of the Democratic Party and created yet another one of the top 10 political documentaries of all time.
